

EAST HUDSON YOUTH SOCCER LEAGUE

Coaching/Training Guidelines 2010

Dimitri Giatrakis
Director of Coaching

East Hudson Academy
Ages 5-7
Development of Individual Skills
Individual and Small Group Tactics

Qualities of Coach	Patience; good humor; ability to see the world through a child's eyes; Ability to speak their language; Accept that the children's play will not look like soccer
Technique	Age-appropriate activities
Dribbling	Turning with ball
Passing	Introduce passing
Tactics	"Where is the field?" "Which goal to kick toward?"

Physical	Balance; running; jumping; intro to warm-up
Psychological	Sharing; fair play; parental involvement; "How to play;" emotional management
The Game	3 v 3, 4 v 4, 5 v 5
Tournaments	None
Breaks:	Children at this age should be able to play when they want to play, and walk away when they are through.

Coaches:

The above information was compiled based on research from courses, seminars, symposiums, clinics, discussions, observations and articles on the subject of player development. They are guidelines about what players of this age group should be working on. However, you know your players best; you must adjust to challenge our players based on their individual and team needs and abilities. Your goal is to ensure that at the end of every practice and every game, your players have improved technically and tactically, as individuals and as members of the team.

East Hudson Academy
Ages 8-9
Development of Individual Skills
Individual and Small Group Tactics

Qualities of Coach	Must clearly understand the capabilities and limitations of this age. Appreciate the power of learning by watching; Ability to demonstrate or use older players to demonstrate
Technique	Age-appropriate activities/ warm-up games
Dribbling	Turning with ball; ball lifting; juggling
Passing and receiving	Introduce passing; Receiving ground balls with inside and sole of foot; shooting with inside of foot
Tactics	Try all positions; 1 v 1 attack; introduce names of positions

Physical	Agility; eye/foot and eye/hand coordination; introduce idea of cool-down; movement
Psychological	Working in pairs; sportsmanship; parental involvement; "How to play;" emotional management
The Game	3 v 3, 4 v 4, 5 v 5 No organized matches with recorded scores.
Tournaments	None
Breaks:	Children at this age should participate at their own pace. No penalty or consequence for missing practice. No discussion about "commitment." Include all children who want to play. Allow students who want to walk away.

Coaches:

The above information was compiled based on research from courses, seminars, symposiums, clinics, discussions, observations and articles on the subject of player development. They are guidelines about what players of this age group should be working on. However, you know your players best; you must adjust to challenge our players based on their individual and team needs and abilities. Your goal is to ensure that at the end of every practice and every game, your players have improved technically and tactically, as individuals and as members of the team.

East Hudson Academy
U-10
Development of Individual Skills
Individual and Small Group Tactics

It is extremely important that we establish a solid foundation at this age. During this time, we should introduce new skills, which will continue to promote the player to acquire an increased comfort level with the ball. At the same time, the coach will assist in the building of self-confidence, intrinsically – driven, by doing and being successful. Demonstration is very important and the players learn best by doing. Players of this age have a high arousal level in relation to the training of basic skill. This is also the time where the player begins his/her transition from self-centered to self-critical. This is the beginning of the “golden period” of learning and the most important age for skill development.

Qualities of Coach	Sensitive, enthusiastic and energetic. He/she plays while facilitating the practice. Encourage ideas.
Technique	Development of individual skills under pressure of time, space and an opponent. Increase technical speed.
Dribbling	Continue to work on improving comfort with the ball, running with the ball, taking on opponents, and incorporate fakes in dribbling.
Passing and receiving	Proper technique in receiving the ball with all surfaces of the body; instep and the outside of the foot; receiving ground balls; air ball and bouncing balls; proper technique-laces; inside, outside; short and long passes; throw-in.
Heading	Introduction to proper heading; self and then to partner. Limited
Tackling	Proper technique
Tactics	Players should play a variety of positions. Introduce an awareness of complete player. 1 v 1 defending; 1 v 1 attacking; Roles of the 1 st , 2 nd , 3 rd attacker and defender; 2 v1 attacking; man to man defense; introduction to set plays.

Teaching / Coaching within 4 v 4 games

Physical		All fitness work done with the ball.
	Flexibility	Static stretching
	Agility	Coordination on the ball
	Speed; Strength; Endurance; Balance	Proper warm-up and cool-down are a must.

Psychological		Keep it FUN and ENJOYABLE to foster a desire to play (intrinsic motivation). Working in groups of 3, 4, 5; stay focused for one half; how to win or lose gracefully; sportsmanship, “how to play;” communication; emotional management.
The Game		4 V 4, 5 V 5 and 8 V 8.
Tournaments		At this age, tournaments should be treated as festivals; players should have fun. Winning should not be in the picture.

Coaches:

The above information was compiled based on research from courses, seminars, symposiums, clinics, discussions, observations and articles on the subject of player development. They are guidelines about what players of this age group should be working on. However, you know your players best; you must adjust to challenge our players based on their individual and team needs and abilities. Your goal is to ensure that at the end of every practice and every game, your players have improved technically and tactically, as individuals and as members of the team.

East Hudson Academy
U-11
Development of Individual Skills
Individual and Small Group Tactics

It is imperative that we continue to build on the solid foundation that the player will need in the future to be successful. Players should be encouraged to be imaginative and to try new things. At the same time, the player should be encouraged to play different positions and to watch professional teams and older players play in order to acquire a better understanding of the game. This is also an important time to introduce and teach the basic principles of play. It is important to establish discipline from the beginning.

Qualities of Coach	Sensitive teacher; enthusiastic; has soccer awareness; ability to demonstrate and someone who knows how to build relationships with his / her players
Technique	Continue to work on improving players' comfort on the ball. As the players become better skilled, the speed of technical play should be encouraged to increase
Dribbling	Encourage risk taking!! Moves to beat an opponent; Keeping possession-shielding; spin turns; change of speed; change of direction
Receiving	Ground and air balls. All surfaces; from a partner; on the move
Shooting	Proper striking technique, partner serve from all angles; turns; cut backs; volleys
Passing	Proper technique-laces, inside, outside; short and long; crossing
Heading	Self serve, partner serve, jumping to head, turning the ball, partner juggling
Tackling	Proper technique
Tactics	Preparation for moving into 11-a- side play
	Development of the basic understanding of the concept and rule of off-side
	Continue concentration at this age on the more important developments of: the triangle in team play; third man running
	Appreciation of the team principles of play and their roles when the team is attacking or defending
	High concentration on basic skills in cooperative play, i.e, passing, control, shooting and heading; goalkeeper techniques and roles
	Continued emphasis on the principles of play, and the roles of the players that were introduced at U-10

Individual & 1v1
	Attacking	Keep possession; encourage risk taking; take players on 1v1 proper areas of the field
	Defending	Proper pressure (in front and behind); channel player; immediate chase
Small group; 2v1, 2v2, 3v1, 3v2, 3v3
	Attacking	Keep possession; support; combination play; wall pass; take over; overlap; double pass
	Defending	Pressure/cover; marking

A great deal of Teaching/Coaching within 4 V 4 games

Physical		All fitness work done with the ball.
	Flexibility	Static stretching
	Agility	Coordination on the ball
	Speed; Strength; Endurance; Balance	Proper warm –up and cool-down are a must.
Psychological		Keep it FUN and ENJOYABLE to foster a desire to play (intrinsic motivation). Encourage decision-making. Imagination / Creativity. Increase demands. Discipline; Encourage players to watch high-level soccer
The Game		8 V 8 or 9 V 9
Tournaments		At this age tournaments should be limited and FUN!!! Try to do your best as an individual and as team should be the goal.

Coaches: The above information was compiled based on research from courses, seminars, symposiums, clinics, discussions, observations and articles on the subject of player development. They are guidelines about what players of this age group should be working on. However, you know your players best. You must adjust to challenge our players based on their individual and team needs and abilities. Your goal is to ensure that at the end of every practice and every game, your players have improved technically and tactically, as individuals and as members of the team.

East Hudson Academy
U-12
Development of Individual Skills
Individual and Small Group Tactics

This is the perfect age of development. Players worship their soccer heroes, identify with successful teams / players and possess a desire and hunger for imagination and imitation of their hero or their teammates. Players of this age enjoy the training of basic skills. This is the “golden age of learning” and the most important age of development. Modeling is extremely important and the players learn best by doing. This is the age to continue to teach the basic principles of play. It is imperative from the beginning that there is individual and team discipline.

Qualities of Coach	Sensitive teacher, enthusiastic, possess soccer awareness, ability to demonstrate, encouraging, build relationships with players
Technique	Extremely important to develop individual strong base; development of individual skills under the pressure of time, space, and an opponent; increase technical speed- “Can a player do magic at full speed, in a limited space and with an opponent on his/her back????!!” This is what we should be striving for.
Dribbling	Promote risk taking!!! Take on opponents; keep possession-shielding; turns; change of speed and direction
Receiving	Ground and air balls; all surfaces; from partner and on the move
Shooting	Proper sticking technique partner serve from all angles; turns; cut backs; volleys
Passing	Proper technique – laces; inside, outside; short and long; crossing.
Heading	Self serve-partner serve- jumping to head; turning the ball; partner juggling
Tackling	Proper technique
Tactics	Perfect age to develop the “Basic Principles of Play”
	Play a variety of positions-develop an awareness / complete player
	Promote attacking soccer – possible play 3-4-3

Individual 1V1
	Attacking	Keep possession; encourage risk taking; take players on 1 V 1 in proper areas of the field
	Defending	Proper pressure (in front and behind); channel player; immediate chase
Small group; 2v1, 2v2, 3v1, 3v2, 3v3
	Attacking	Keep possession; support; combination play; wall pass; take over; overlap; double pass
	Defending	Pressure / cover; marking

A great deal of Teaching / Coaching within 4 V 4 games

Physical		All fitness work done with the ball.
	Flexibility	Static stretching
	Agility	Coordination on the ball
	Speed; Strength; Endurance; Balance	Proper warm-up and cool-down are a must.
Psychological		Keep it FUN and ENJOYABLE to foster a desire to play (intrinsic motivation). Encourage decision-making; imagination / creativity; increase demands; discipline; encourage players to watch high-level soccer
The Game		8 V 8 or 9 V 9 or 11 v 11
Tournaments		Competitive and age appropriate; emphasis should be placed on the individual improvement and team play

Coaches:

The above information was compiled based on research from courses, seminars, symposiums, clinics, discussions, observations and articles on the subject of player development. They are guidelines about what players of this age group should be working on. However, you know your players best. You must adjust to challenge our players based on their individual and team needs and abilities. Your goal is to ensure that at the end of every practice and every game, your players have improved technically and tactically, as individuals and as members of the team.

East Hudson Academy
U-13 and U-14
Development of Individual Skills
Individual and Small Group Tactics

At this age, the game becomes a more “adult game.” As a result, adult rules and standards must apply. The speed of the game and individual development quickens. Therefore, the demands at our training should adjust in a way to provoke improvement in mental toughness, awareness and diligence.

Qualities of Coach	Ability to demonstrate, possess soccer awareness, motivator, encouraging, and sensitive to the players’ development
Technique	Continue to work on the foundation. Development of individual skills under pressure of time, space and an opponent; Increase technical speed
Dribbling	Encourage taking on 1 V 1 Feints / moves; maintain possession; shielding / spin turns
Receiving	Quality first touch take balls out of the air / turning; all surfaces; on the run
Shooting	On the run; on the turn; from all angles; crosses; volleys
Passing	Short, long, bend, crosses, driven, chipped ---All surfaces , all on the run
Heading	Defending, attacking and passing headers
Tackling	Proper technique, slide
Tactics	Increase tactical speed (Decision making)

Individual 1V1
	Attacking	Keep possession; encourage risk taking; taking players on the proper areas of the field
	Defending	Proper pressure (in front and behind); channel players; immediate chase; angles of pressure
Small Group: 2v1, 2v2, 3v2, 3v3, 4v2, 4v4
	Attacking	Keep possession; support; combination play; wall pass; take over; overlap; double pass; width; depth; penetration; crossing with proper runs in the box and simple set plays

	Defending	Understand the roles of the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd defender in a team play; maintain shape; cover for teammates; and the different systems
--	------------------	---

A great deal of Teaching / Coaching within 4 v 4 and 7 v 7 games

Physical		All fitness work done with the ball.
	Flexibility	Static stretching and dynamic flexibility
	Agility	Coordination on the ball
	Speed; Strength; Endurance; Balance	Proper warm-up and cool-down are a must.
Psychological		The game should remain fun and enjoyable. We should encourage our players to play with passion for the game. Imagination / creativity; increase demands ; establish training targets; maintain discipline; encourage players to watch high-level soccer
The Game		11 v 11
Tournaments		Highly competitive and demanding games; emphasis placed on the individual and team play

Coaches:

The above information was compiled based on research from courses, seminars, symposiums, clinics, discussions, observations and articles on the subject of player development. They are guidelines about what players of this age group should be working on. However, you know your players best. You must adjust to challenge our players based on their individual and team needs and abilities. Your goal is to ensure that at the end of every practice and every game, your players have improved technically and tactically, as individuals and as members of the team.

East Hudson Academy

U-15 and U-16

Development of Skill and Group Tactics

This is a crucial time in the player's development. Many players stop playing soccer due to a number of reasons. Some of those reasons are: lack of success, shortage of playing opportunities, poor leadership, or some other reason. Some players do not have the mental toughness or self-confidence to continue with the game. They are self-critical and they have a challenging time with the desire to be competitive, which is not always acceptable by their peers. This is also the time where there is a need for team spirit, leadership and discipline within the team.

Qualities of Coach	Ability to demonstrate, possess soccer awareness, motivator, encouraging and sensitive to the players' development
Technique: Dribbling, Receiving, Shooting, Passing, Heading and Tackling	Skills should be mastered to the point of beauty and improvisation. All activities must be under match conditions. Individual skill is covered during the warm-up. Increased technical speed; it is important that technique is still highly emphasized at this age; strike balls cleanly over distance, with accuracy under pressure
Tactics	Increase tactical speed (Decision making)

Groups: 3 v 3, 4 v 4, 7 v 7
	Attacking	Keep possession with purpose; width - depth; support; Combination play; wall pass; take over; overlap; double pass; third man running Penetration Mobility / Creativity Crossing with proper runs into the box Set plays
	Defending	Compactness Delay Tracking back Communication (who, what, when, where) Teach to enjoy winning possession on the ball and dictating the play with defending Set plays

A great deal of Coaching within 7 V 7 games

Physical		Fitness work with and without the ball
	Flexibility	Static stretching before and after training / matches Dynamic Flexibility (especially before matches and training) Importance of discipline for warm up and cool down
	Agility	With and without the ball
	Speed; Strength; Endurance; Balance	Footwork – keeping the feet active when moving / playing Endurance – Aerobic and anaerobic Strength – Upper and lower body; core strength and stability Balance Nutrition – Proper diet – pre-game, post game, tournaments, etc. Prevention and care of injuries Importance of rest / recovery – schedule issues relative to the physical demands
Psychological		Increased concentration Leadership / player responsibilities Discipline Respect for the game Goal setting Vary program – Satisfy player’s urge for competition Encourage players to watch high-level soccer
The Game		11 v 11
Tournaments		Highly competitive

Coaches:

The above information was compiled based on research from courses, seminars, symposiums, clinics, discussions, observations and articles on the subject of player development. They are guidelines about what players of this age group should be working on. However, you know your players best. You must adjust to challenge our players based on their individual and team needs and abilities. Your goal is to ensure that at the end of every practice and every game, your players have improved technically and tactically, as individuals and as members of the team.

East Hudson Academy

U-17 and U-18

Development of Positional and Team Play

The fulfillment of a player's potential depends strictly on his or her own efforts, the support of his or her teammates and the guidance of the coach! The players must be exposed at all times to the demands of the game, that is, the training and playing environment must constantly stretch the players' mental, physical and technical capabilities to the limit. By now, the players must have a solid understanding of the game and its principles. At the same time, they must be emotionally stable when confronted with pressure situations. The training sessions and matches must be challenging and demanding!!!

Qualities of Coach	Ability to demonstrate, possess soccer awareness, motivator, encouraging and sensitive to the players' needs
Technique: Dribbling, Receiving, Shooting, Passing, Heading, and Tackling	Mastered skills leading to artistry; all must be under game conditions, demanding excellence; individual skills covered during warm ups
Tactics	Increased tactical speed (decision making) Increased pressure and competitions Gamesmanship Ability to change and adapt to game dynamics, up or down goals, management of the clock Team / Functional Understanding of lines and linkage; Positional technical needs

Groups
	Attacking	Possession with purpose Combination play with tactical implications Speed of play; deception; body positioning to look; moving with your touch Penetration and creativity; quality of final ball to beat backs Counter attack Wide flank play Target playing and creating chances Crossing with proper runs into the box Set plays
	Defending	Man-to-an marking with sweeper behind and in front Zonal defending; reading service Pressing (winning possession of the ball as an attacking concept)

A great deal of Coaching / Training within 9 v 9 and 11 v 11 games

Physical		Fitness work with and without the ball
	Flexibility	Static stretching before and after training/matches
	Dynamic Flexibility	Especially before matches and training; Importance of discipline for warm up and cool down
	Agility	With and without the ball
	Speed	With and without the ball
	Strength	Upper and lower body; core strength and stability
	Endurance	Aerobic and anaerobic
	Balance
	Nutrition	Proper diet: pre-game; post game; tournaments, etc.
	Prevention	Care of injuries; importance of rest/recovery-schedule issues relative to the physical demands
Psychological		Increased concentration, goal setting Leadership / increased player responsibility, accountability Discipline Respect for the game Self confidence, self motivation, goal setting Vary program – Satisfy player’s urge for competition Will to win. Mental Toughness / Competitive Mentality Encourage players to watch high-quality soccer
The Game		11 v 11
Tournaments		This is the highest competition the team can enter. Constantly challenge the individual players and the team.

Coaches:

The above information was compiled based on research from courses, seminars, symposiums, clinics, discussions, observations and articles on the subject of player development. They are guidelines about what players of this age group should be working on. However, you know your players best. You must adjust to challenge our players based on their individual and team needs and abilities. Your goal is to ensure that at the end of every practice and every game, your players have improved technically and tactically, as individuals and as members of the team.